

Albany Immigrants

#46

We sailed from Cork on a windy day, with a dark and cloudy sky
Our friends were standing on the Quay, the women stood and cried
We were young and out for fun and the riches we could find
So, lift your glass and drink a toast to the girls we left behind

Oh! Paddy dear, drink up your beer, we're leaving in the morn
Aboard the ship, the Alice Gray for Straya 'round the Horn.
Oh! Paddy dear, drink up your beer, we're leaving in the morn
Aboard the ship, the Alice Gray (Gray)...

...for West Australia 'round the Horn.

Our brother was a sailor man with the Black Ball Line
He jumped ship in Albany and now he's doing fine
The letters that he wrote to us said "Come out here and stay"
So, we're off to Albany in the morn without a care, we're free.

Jack has a farm in Albany with livestock by the score
He says the trees can touch the sky, King Kauri so we're told
The sailing ships arrive each day with diggers off for gold
And a hundred whales are plainly seen to frolic in the sound

And now we're underway, my boys, the ship's bell loudly sounds
The quay is now well out of sight and we are seaward bound
And as we round passage west the good ship gives full sail
A parting glass to Erin's Isle from the swaying ship-deck rail

They sailed from Cork on a windy day, with a dark and cloudy sky
Their friends were standing on the Quay, the women stood and cried
They were young and out for fun and the riches they could find
So, lift your glass and drink a toast to the girls they left behind